

Dear Commissioners,
Unlike the folks at XM Radio (and I write as a subscriber), I do not believe it is appropriate for them to be providing local traffic and weather services over their terrestrial antenna network. XM has been licensed as a satellite radio service, and I believe this is a backhanded way of bypassing the rules and regulations to unfairly compete with local radio stations. I hope the FCC will not give away our local spectrum for such purposes.

Sincerely,

Chuck Singleton